AI Fast Start

Smarter outcomes, faster — with Lenovo AI Fast Start

Nearly two-thirds of organizations admit they have yet to see ROI from AI. Still, 80% of organizations use AI in at least one business function^{1,1}

Lenovo AI Fast Start is designed to close that gap. In just weeks, it enables you to prove the business value of AI through a tailored, production-ready use case built on your own data.

Built to support the evolution from generative to agentic AI, Fast Start empowers you to deploy intelligent systems that not only generate insights, but also reason, take autonomous actions, and adapt dynamically to your business needs. With flexible access to AI infrastructure, expert guidance, and a curated ecosystem of partners, you can move from experimentation to impact—faster.

Accelerate GenAI & Agentic AI Value — in as little as 6 weeks

Organizations face mounting pressure to show outcomes from AI—but most are still stuck in experimentation. AI Fast Start helps you cut through complexity and deliver proof, fast.

Designed for both generative and agentic AI, Lenovo AI Fast Start lets you go beyond model deployment to intelligent automation. Our certified experts guide you in building a working, pre-production solution—whether it's a conversational agent, task automation system, or decision-support tool—tailored to your business and demonstrating real value, fast.

Flexible Paths to Your AI Proof of Concept

Accelerate your AI journey with deployment paths built around your business needs. Whether you need full control over your data, want to leverage industry-ready GenAI solutions, or prefer quick-start APIs for rapid testing, we've got you covered. Each option is optimized to deliver results faster—enabling intelligent automation, powering agent-based workflows, and scaling with you as your needs evolve.

Not ready to commit to infrastructure? No problem. With a secure, preconfigured environment, zero upfront hardware costs, and seamless data onboarding, you can test and validate your AI use cases quickly and confidently. This low-risk, high-impact approach eliminates procurement delays and accelerates time to proof—helping you build momentum, demonstrate ROI, and move from concept to outcome with speed and certainty.
