of A4 Hardware, Keypoint Intelligence*

“ Many of Canon’s winning models offer notably lower than average costs per page and total costs of ownership compared to models in their class, making for truly impressive value propositions. ”

*Kaitlin Shaw, Associate Director
of A4 Hardware, Keypoint Intelligence*

“ All of the winning models – support Canon imageWARE Enterprise Management Console and uniFLOW, which provide enterprise-level functionality and an impressive level of control over print costs and security. This greatly simplifies device management and gives businesses peace of mind that their sensitive information will be protected. ”
