DataMaster Lab

Therefore™ has won two awards by DataMaster Lab, an independent French test lab for office machines and software solutions. Therefore™ solutions underwent a thorough analysis which included hands-on testing over the course of several days by DataMaster Lab consultants trained on evaluating Enterprise Content Management (ECM) solutions.

Therefore™ won the DataMaster GED Award for Best Solution for HR Department Administration and Management. The experts at DataMaster Lab all agree: Therefore™ is the #1 ECM solution on the market for HR.

Therefore™ also won the DataMaster GED Award for Outstanding ECM 2022 for Small and Mid-Size Businesses.

What is GED? GED is a French acronym for Gestion Electronique de Document, translated as "electronic document management" in English, or the more commonly used acronym ECM.

DataMaster Lab is an independent test lab based near Rennes in France. They have been testing office and production printing and imaging equipment in their own lab, or at manufacturers' or partners' premises, since 2009. DataMaster Lab analyzes related software solutions such as document capture, content services, print accounting, follow me, fleet management, web to print, variable data, print ERP, etc., as well as the simpler apps available on many office machines. Their aim is to identify the main characteristics of these products and to evaluate their performance in real-world, business scenarios.
